
Providing Excellence in Musical Theatre Training and Performance

As we reflect on the past year, we are proud of the resilience and creativity that continue to define CSOPA. Our community of performers, staff, families, and supporters has shown tremendous dedication, and together we've built a strong foundation for growth.

A highlight of this year has been welcoming Hayley as our Artistic Director. After serving in an interim capacity, she has now fully stepped into the role, bringing steady leadership, fresh energy, and an exciting vision for the future of our programs. Already, her guidance is shaping new opportunities for our students and enriching the artistic direction of the organization.

Our productions this season have once again showcased the remarkable talent of our youth. These performances are made possible by the hard work of our staff and volunteers, whose commitment ensures that CSOPA remains a place of excellence in musical theatre training and performance.

Financially, we continue to prioritize sustainability. While some decisions have been challenging, they have been necessary to safeguard CSOPA's future and ensure that our programs remain accessible to families. We are encouraged by community support, fundraising efforts, and steady enrollment, which together have strengthened our ability to move forward with confidence.

Looking ahead, we are excited to deepen our community connections, expand our programming, and continue to provide a safe, inclusive, and inspiring space for young people to grow both as performers and as individuals.

With the ongoing commitment of our students, families, staff, and supporters, CSOPA is well-positioned for another year of success. We remain dedicated to nurturing the next generation of artists and leaders in our community.

Sincerely,
Katie Sallenbach
